Board Chairperson's Remarks

Amb. Zachary Muburi-Muita Chairperson, Board of Directors

I am pleased to present to you this issue of the KMTTC Newsletter, the 91st Graduation Special Edition.

This year's ceremony saw the College release 15,915 graduates into the health sector, the highest in the College's history, and also comes against a backdrop of key achievements for the College.

Most notably, the College was registered on the Kenya National Qualifications Authority Framework, equating the KMTTC Higher National Diploma qualifications to University Bachelor's degrees. For our graduates, this means a shorter career progression pathway as well as accelerated educational advancement opportunities.

Moreover, KMTTC students can now breathe a sigh of relief following the inking of a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between the College and the Higher Education Loans Board (HELB). The MoU will see needy KMTTC students access HELB loans to finance their education, taking a huge burden off their shoulders and enabling them to focus on their training.

We are indeed grateful for such incredible milestones and come on the eve of yet another major milestone.

In just a few months, the College will be celebrating its 96th anniversary. Many things have changed over the past 95 years of our existence but one thing has been constant, our history of excellence. Churning graduates who have made their mark in the world, occupying some of the highest offices in the country, has remained our hallmark. I note with pride that the current Health Cabinet Secretary Ms. Susan Nakhumicha is one such individual, having begun her post-secondary training in this very institution.

Away from that, the College has continued to be a key pillar in health systems strengthening in the country and beyond. The World Health Organization (WHO) suggests that scaling up Primary Health Care (PHC) interventions across low and middle-income countries could save 60 million lives and increase average life expectancy by 3.7 years by 2030. Further, for Universal Health Coverage (UHC) to be truly universal, a shift is needed from health systems designed around diseases and institutions towards health systems designed for people, with people.

Our graduates, therefore, are not just a statistic, once absorbed in the job market, these very people occupy an important niche in the health sector, providing real-world solutions and moving the country closer to achieving its aspirations.

Every day I am proud to sit on the steering wheel of this great institution but on occasions like this graduation, when I witness the extraordinary impact of our training, I am proudest to serve as the Board Chairperson of this outstanding College.

I thank the Government through the able leadership of H.E. President Dr. William Samoei Ruto for being at the forefront in championing the achievement of the UHC agenda through the strengthening of PHC. Our gratitude also goes to the Ministry of Health through whose support, the College has been able to achieve great milestones, including expanding training opportunities and enabling us to bring more qualified applicants on board.

To our graduates, a new phase of life awaits you as you set out for the career world, it is time to carve your future now that you have graduated successfully. I wish you nothing but success and happiness. I hope you find joy in everything you do and that you continue to conquer new frontiers. Once again, congratulations on your success!!!

Chief Executive Officer's Remarks

Dr. Kelly Oluoch
Chief Executive Officer

Welcome to yet another edition of the KMTTC Newsletter, the 43rd issue with special coverage of the 91st Graduation Ceremony.

Congratulations to our 2022 graduates, I am immensely proud of what you have achieved during your time at the College. As you embark on the next chapter of service to mankind, through your various specializations, I encourage you to inculcate the same spirit of resilience and excellence into your practice.

As you may recall, the emergence of COVID-19 adversely affected the healthcare sector. Interestingly, it has also left us with some valuable lessons when it comes to advancement and improvements in healthcare delivery. In line with this, the College has been continuously adapting and improving its training in response to the rapidly changing healthcare landscape to provide quality training for students.

As part of these efforts, we have continued to leverage technology with a big percentage of our training courses now being registered on the e-Learning platform. In addition, librarians from across our campuses have undergone training in preparation for the e-Library rollout across the College.

Further, towards offering training that provides our students with well-balanced real-world information that is aligned to patient needs and global healthcare trends, the College has continued to develop new curricula and review existing ones.

As a strategic government health training Institution, KMTTC plays an important role in propelling the country towards the attainment of specific health-related targets, including Sustainable Development Goals and Kenya Vision 2030.

And for the last 94 years, we have steadfastly remained committed to achieving this mandate, releasing hundreds of thousands of competent health professionals into the health sector. The 15,915 graduates released in this graduation will undoubtedly contribute to this, building on the Government's successes in enhancing access to quality healthcare services to its people.

All these successes require a dedicated and specialized team.

Special mention goes to the KMTTC Board of Directors through whose visionary leadership and efforts, the College has continued to record many firsts geared towards empowering KMTTC students. The Board has availed resources and created an enabling environment for creativity and innovativeness as expressed in our core values.

I further wish to thank the KMTTC Management and Principals across our Campuses for all their hard work in ensuring the continued prosperity of the College. I remain confident that through our collective efforts, our great institution can only continue to grow from strength to strength.

To our graduates, go ye forth and be great. Let nobody dim your shine!

KMTC Holds 91st Graduation Ceremony, Releases 15,915 Medics into the Health Sector

KMTC, during its 91st Graduation Ceremony held on December 2, 2022, released 15,915 fresh graduates ready to join the health workforce. Of this number, 692 were awarded Higher Diplomas, 8,235 Diplomas, and 6,988 Certificates.

The event presided over by the Ministry of Health Cabinet Secretary Ms. Susan Nakhumicha Wafula, saw the highest-ever number of graduates in the history of the College, given the power to put their training to practice.

Giving her remarks, the CS observed that KMTC has been making great strides in the field of health care service delivery, “Anyone contacting a health provider in this country, will most probably be attended by a KMTC graduate. I am proud to be a KMTC Alumna,” she said.

Referring to the recently signed Bilateral Agreement between Kenya and the United Kingdom (UK) on the exportation of health professionals to work in the UK, the CS reported that the country’s health workforce and especially nurses are now migrating to work in other countries, and the Ministry is spearheading efforts to create more international job opportunities for other cadres as well. “KMTC thus has to be intentional in creating training opportunities responsive to both local and global market needs,” she stated.

CS. Wafula further outlined that the Ministry of Health is harmonizing and implementing several policy reforms and programs in the health sector. These include the Universal Health Coverage (UHC) and Health Insurance subsidy programs for the poor and vulnerable households. “The revision of the UHC benefit package will allow Kenyans covered under NHIF to enjoy more services,” she added.

This year’s graduation comes against the backdrop of the recent equation of the College’s Higher National Diploma Qualifications to a University bachelor’s degrees.

Referencing this milestone, KMTC Board Chairperson Amb. Zachary Muburi-Muita reported that, “Our quest to continually supply a quality global health workforce received a boost after certification by the Kenya National Qualification Authority (KNQA).”

Amb. Muita affirmed that the equation could not have come at a better time as the KMTC graduates are ever linked to training and career opportunities both in and outside the country.

On the same note, the Chairperson stated that “to demonstrate that the College is indeed the preferred health training institution nationally, on a yearly basis, we receive over 30,000 applications while at the same time train students qualified to join universities but opt to pursue KMTC programs. To increase access to training opportunities for all, Amb. Muita announced that the College has joined hands with the Higher Education and Loans Board (HELB) to launch an education fund for KMTC students. “So far, the National Treasury has approved a Kshs. 680 million funding towards this scheme. Out of this, Kshs 226.6 million has already been disbursed,” he added.

The Chief Executive Officer Dr. Kelly Oluoch conveyed that the decision to hold a virtual graduation, with minimal physical participation, had been informed by the threat posed by the Ebola outbreak and reports of a renewed upsurge in Covid-19 cases, and subsequently for the safety and dignity of KMTC students, graduates and their families, staff, and the general public.

He confirmed that in line with this year's theme of "Sustainable and Comprehensive Training towards a Responsive Health System", the Graduands are well trained, examined, equipped with a diversity of competencies to serve in any part of the world.

In addition, Dr. Oluoch disclosed that, "in order to strengthen Primary Health Care, the College has collaborated with partners to offer training for Specialized Cadres, Community Health Volunteers, Community Health Assistants, Community Health Extension Workers, Life Support as well as Emergency Medical Technicians."

Having been started in 1927 with four students at the Kenya School of Administration, the College has a current student population of 54,000 students undertaking 93 courses in 72 Campuses, spread out in 44 out of the 47 counties. The College currently produces 85 percent of middle-level healthcare workers in the country and will be celebrating its 96th anniversary in 2023.

Health Cabinet Secretary, Ms. Susan Nakhumicha

Allow me to begin by congratulating you all, the graduands of 2022 on your graduation today. I feel greatly honored and privileged to be the Chief Guest at this 91st Graduation Ceremony. Today we celebrate 15,915 Health Professionals.

To our graduands, today is a culmination of your diligence, hard work and resilience. To all parents, guardians, sponsors, faculty, and the entire KMTC fraternity, I thank you for your individual and collective efforts towards the education of these young men and women.

I commend KMTC for producing quality health workers, who either as individuals or as part of diverse medical teams are acclaimed for championing evidence-based practice, quality improvement approaches, and informatics to deliver patient-centered care.

Training should not be seen as an end but a means to improve health outcomes and experience for patients. I am particularly excited about Ms. Elizabeth Lukresia Robai, the dancing student nurse, who is using her unique skills and personality to demonstrate patient centeredness and bring a smile to the sick.

In 2021, the Government of Kenya in conjunction with the Ministry of Labour undertook a Health Labour Market Analysis, which identified gaps in the health provider to patient ratios as per global benchmarks.

Evolving epidemiologic profiles have presented new challenges in health service provision. Equally, we have witnessed a progressive shift in the demand for patient-centred care, community-based health services, and personalized long-term care globally. Demand for the global health workforce is therefore expected to grow substantially. As a country, we thus need to align future production of health care workers to the population health needs.

The Ministry of Health is harmonizing and implementing several policy reforms and programs in the health sector. These include the Universal Health Coverage and Health Insurance subsidy programs for the poor and vulnerable households. The revision of the UHC benefit package will allow Kenyans covered under NHIF to enjoy more services.

Indeed as articulated in the Kenya Kwanza manifesto under the leadership of H.E President Dr. William Ruto, this government is committed to realizing the constitutional right to health by all citizens. Health workforce as we know, is a key health system building block without which we cannot achieve Universal Health Coverage. A well-performing health workforce is one that is responsive, fair and efficient to achieve the best health outcomes.

To actualize this promise, I am aware that the College has faced some challenges, which we are working together to address, to enable effective delivery of its mandate to achieve excellence training capacity. Going forward we will work closely with stakeholders including regulatory bodies, county governments, partners and health facilities to strengthen the training and employment opportunities.

As I conclude, I want to applaud your families and/or support systems who sacrificed to see you through your studies.

We all share in the joy of the graduands gathered here today for the tireless efforts and commitment you have shown.

I know that your training here at KMTC has equipped you, not just with knowledge, skills and abilities but it has also given you a great foundation to become positive agents of change who will provide innovative solutions to the problems facing our health sector.

Finally, as you go out, remember that the interest of your patient supersedes any other interest. May you remain proud ambassadors of KMTC and Kenya. I hope that you will take up your space as bravely and as boldly as you can. Our country and the world are counting on you.

Congratulations to each and every one in the graduating Class of 2022 and all the best as you begin a new chapter in your lives.

Chairperson, Board of Directors

It is a great honour and privilege for me to welcome you all to this the 91st Graduation Ceremony of the Kenya Medical Training College (KMTCC).

We are extremely honoured Madam Waziri by your presence here this morning. We take pleasure that indeed as a KMTCC alumna, you remain committed to improving healthcare services in the country, in which the College plays a key role through training of competent Human Resources for Health to bridge the gaps. Your story perfectly fits the description by the American author, Zig Ziglar, that in life “it is not where you start but where you finish that counts. In that, you are then a great inspiration not just to our students but also all the young people of this nation.

Graduation from an academic institution is a perfect example of the adage “the end of one journey is the beginning of another.” On graduating from KMTCC, the graduands have been prepared to face life’s toughest challenges as well as exploit the opportunities therein. While we are aware that today is very much the graduands day, we are also happy to join their families and friends in celebration. Our Faculty and staff are honoured to have worked and walked with them thus far.

The theme of this year’s graduation ceremony is “Sustainable and Comprehensive Training towards a Responsive Health System”. This theme is aligned to the Government’s goal of strengthening health systems and the College’s key role of training a professional health workforce. It is commendable that this is happening when the College is marking 95 years of its existence, since establishment way back in 1927.

The College’s role as a leader in the middle-level medical training has never been as crucial. In recent months, we have taken up our leadership role in producing Human Resources for Health, by churning out high-quality graduates to serve local and international markets. KMTCC supplies over 85% of the middle level health professionals for the Kenyan health sector. Our quest to continually supply a quality global health workforce recently received a boost after certification by the Kenya National Qualification Authority (KNQA) equated the College’s Higher National Diploma (HND) to a bachelor’s degree.

This could not have come at a better time since our graduates are ever linked to training and career opportunities both in and outside the country. As a result, their qualifications are now better aligned and verifiable to potential employers as well as higher education institutions.

It is the Board’s resolve and determination to continue providing prudent strategic leadership towards extensively mobilizing and efficiently utilizing resources to meet the College’s principle objectives. This is in addition to operationalizing a number of facilities in order to increase training and employment opportunities and possibilities for Kenyan citizens.

To our esteemed partners, we owe an immense debt of gratitude and look forward to more future collaborations geared towards attaining mutual beneficial outcomes.

To our graduands, ama wahitimu tunaowatuza Vyeti, Diploma na Diploma Ya Juu ya kitaifa siku ya leo. Mara nyingine tena nawapongeza kwa dhiti. Lakini nawakumbusha pia kwamba mna bahati sana kwani ni zaidi ya vijana 30,000 wanaotafuta nafasi ya kujifunza katika chuo hiki kila mwaka, ila thuluthi moja yao hawafui dafu. Pia mkumbuke kwamba wazazi na walezi wenu wamejitolea mhanga; kwa hali na mali ili kuwalea na kuwaelimisha. Lakini kama Rais Barak Obama alivyo nena, hakuna atakae kuandikia hatima (destiny) yako ila wewe mwenyewe. Amua malengo yako na uyazingatie. Wakati wote kuwa mwanaichi mwadilifu na tenda wema kwa wagonjwa kama njia ya kulipa deni kwa wazazi na wanainchi waliotoa kodi ili uelimishwe.

An Excerpt from the original speech

Dr. Kelly Oluoch, Chief Executive Officer

It is my joy and privilege to welcome you to the 91st Graduation ceremony of the Kenya Medical Training College. From the onset, Madam CS, it gives me immense pleasure to note that this is the institution where you launched your higher education, therefore, it is yet another big milestone for the College to host one of its own.

In the same breath, the College is gratified to note that Principal Secretary in the State Department for Health Standards and Professional Management, Dr. Josephine Mburu, is a KMTC alumna and former member of staff. Similarly, the Principal Secretary in the State Department for Medical Services, Eng. Peter Tum, is a former staff and alumni of KMTC.

Madam CS

We are glad to be graduating 15,915 fresh graduands ready to meet the health workforce gaps. Of this number, 692 will be awarded Higher Diplomas, 8,235 Diplomas, and 6,988 Certificates. I confirm that these graduands are well trained, examined, equipped with a diversity of skills and competencies to serve in any part of the world.

We remain steadfast and committed in producing a global workforce, who are alive to the realities in the health sector and aspirations of the future.

As the demand for our training programs continue to grow, we are working closely with the Ministry of Health, industry and academia partners to enhance training opportunities for the Kenyan youth. The College has expanded its training programs, reviewed and developed curriculum to revolutionize patient-centred healthcare. Even as we grow, the College remains committed to quality standards, excellence, as well as regulatory frameworks.

Our focus is now on preventive and promotive courses that will empower people on self-care and wellness.

In order to strengthen Primary Health Care, the College has collaborated with partners to offer training for specialized cadres.

Madam CS, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Being a strategic training institution, KMTC plays an important role in propelling the country towards the attainment of specific health-related targets. Therefore, today's graduation will undoubtedly meet this goal.

We call upon the National as well as County Governments to provide employment opportunities to these graduands. At the same time, we encourage our graduates to think outside formal employment, seize entrepreneurship opportunities, become self-reliant and create employment for others.

To our Graduands

Congratulations! You are the reason for this occasion and we are proud of you! Your resilience, determination and focus has kept you going. Go out and make a positive impact as you offer selfless services to both God and man. As you do this, remember that at all times the interest of your patient is greater than any other interest.

As Aristotle said “Excellence is never an accident. It is always the result of high intention, sincere effort, and intelligent execution; it represents the wise choice of many alternatives – choice, not chance, determines your destiny.” Now that the College’s Higher Diploma certificates have been equated with bachelor’s degrees, seek to make career progression by advancing your studies.

To conclude, I thank the Ministry of Health, our Board of Directors, Management team, Staff, Students, parents, guardians, partners and friends of the College for supporting KMTC achieve its mandate.
